DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on March 30, 2009 has been entered. The November 28, 2008 Final Rejection is withdrawn pursuant thereto. Claims 56, 57, 60, 61 and 65-69 are pending. Applicant cancelled claims 1-55, 58, 59 and 62-64.

Election/Restrictions

2. Applicant's election with traverse of claims 56, 57, 60, 61 and 65 in the reply filed on March 30, 2009 is acknowledged. The traversal is on the ground(s) that the claims 66-69 are not independent or distinct and no class/subclass differentiation exists. This is not found persuasive because the various alternative claimed features do make the claims independent or distinct. Also, Claim 66 may be classified in 705/1, while claim 66 may be classified in 707/104.1.

The requirement is still deemed proper and is therefore made FINAL.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

4. Claims 56, 57, 60, 61 and 65 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. The term "existing inventions" is not clear as to where support for such is contained in the application, as filed.

5. Claims 56, 57, 60, 61 and 65 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 65, line 2 the term "existing inventions" is not clear as to its meets and bounds.

6. Claims 56, 57, 60, 61 and 65, as understood, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Barney et al., US 6,556,992. Barney discloses, e.g. Figs. 1-12 and related text, a computer implemented network system, e.g. col. 12, lines 53+, using a computer module to promote existing inventions, e.g. patents. Barney does not specifically disclose a survey module. However, Barney does disclose rating or rankings using a database of selected patent information. Official Notice is taken that a survey incorporating rating or rankings using a database has been common knowledge in the survey art. To have provided such for Barney would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art. The motivation for doing such would have been to use common knowledge information to make informational business decisions.
